

WM. ZINK & SON
UNDERTAKING

Our marriage licenses issued by Clerk Hook yesterday. Thirty market was well supplied yesterday. Fifteen and sixteen dollars were the prices.

The Hanging Garden in front of the city building becomes more attractive every day.

Mr. Wooster, of the North End, is having considerable improvement done to his residence.

John Conners, alias "Sixteen String Jack," is in Pittsburgh, and is under police surveillance there.

We understand that an excursion from Thirty-first street will go down the river on the Diurnal this morning.

A gentleman remarked on the street yesterday: "Poker playing never was so prevalent in my recollection."

"Mama" Hunter has booked "The Galley Slave" by Bartley Campbell's great drama, for the 17th and 18th of May.

Some long needed repairs are being made on Main street, between Tenth and Eleventh. Let the good work go on.

The shaft of the muck roll engine at the Creek mill broke yesterday, throwing out the boilers until it could be repaired.

We extend our congratulations to Mr. Dave Baird, of the Hinge Factory, and Miss Mary A. Robinson, who were married last night.

Some of the Swiss emigrants at Helvetia, Randolph county, came to this city last Saturday, and are now located over at Mansfield.

An old soldier, who said he had footed it through from Indiana to this city, applied for a lodging ticket at the City Building last night.

It is stated that another glass factory project is on foot at Martin's Ferry, to which citizens of the place are said to be subscribing liberally.

Tus Island is a beautiful spot now. Spring has clothed it in a new suit of delicate green, and it is eminently worthy of its name, "The Garden Spot."

Orro Hass Jr., was struck on the head with a bat while playing ball at the Fourth ward school yesterday, injuring that member in a very painful manner.

Three of the five kilns at the pottery are nearly finished, and work is going rapidly on upon the new building, which will be ready to raise very soon.

One of the contractors on the Jacob street improvement had his hand badly mashed yesterday, by a runaway. It is feared that this was a very painful matter.

Thy Phylaxia, a small beetle, which injured the vineyards in Europe so greatly, is reported as visiting this country. It penetrates the bud and destroys the heart.

Tus citizens living along the National Road, above Seventh street, are all anxious to know who has the contract for lighting the oil lamps on that thoroughfare.

The smoke-stack of the Belmont furnace is being scaffolded for the purpose of placing iron bands around it. These were found necessary to prevent damage from cracking.

A telegraph line has been put up along the C. & T. V. and W. R. R. from Urichville to Bridgeport, thus giving Bridgeport through connection along that route to Cleveland.

The Bryans of our city have appointed a committee to make arrangements for an entertainment to be given to the Bryans of Kentucky at the City Building.

The fair will wind up with a banquet. The Diurnal came up from Parkersburg yesterday, flying her new colors, recently won. Captain Booth says the natives all come out to see them. "We are also making twelve miles an hour up stream," said he.

THAT surprising boat club, the Nall City, will give one of its grand balls to-morrow evening at the boat house, foot of Alley 19 and Water street. These balls are always enjoyable, and this one will be especially so.

LEW DAVIS, a little molatto lad, was arrested a few nights ago in the First ward by Nightwatchman Jenkins, for picking the pockets of some of "Shillero's" drivers. "Squire Caldwell held him in $100 for his appearance at County Court."

A weather prophet up the river, a prophetess rather, says will kill even the wheat. When women get to making dire predictions of this kind, it is time the whole business was suppressed.

MR. J. T. MCCONNELL, Superintendent of the Central District Printing and Telegraph Company, of this city, is in the city for the purpose of arranging for electrical fixtures, and also for making all necessary arrangements for the telephone exchange.

THE Pirates of Penzance failed their canvas and transferred their booty to a special baggage car in the First ward last night, where they will sail this morning via the Central Ohio road for Zanesville, where they appear at Schult's Opera House to-night.

MARTIN REIDER was up before Squire Phillips yesterday on the charge of assaulting with intent to rob John J. Reynolds. He could not identify him as one of the parties engaged in the assault at all, and as there was no other evidence to hold him he was released.

NOTHING definite has yet been decided upon in reference to the jointation over the new railroad. We understand that the committee thinks it advisable to wait until the weather is in a more settled condition, and the work of ballasting the road has been suspended—Bridgeport Press.

Several persons have been arrested here, that if Mr. Hornbrook believed that contemplated crematory out at his park it will be handy for the citizens of that city to incinerate their deceased citizens. Steubenville dealer men may keep quiet enough, but "Wheeling" is not so easily won.

Last evening about thirty-five couples met on the South Side for the purpose of testing a surprise to Miss Myers, of East Wheeling. Accompanied by T. T. Lockaway's Orchestra they proceeded to the residence of the young lady, where most pleasant evening was spent by all.

New houses are going up in all parts of Bellaire, and old ones are being repaired, fences built, yards sodded, and in fact it is a lively scene, as when here before the war. As soon as the Nall Mill resumes work, which will probably be on Monday, it will be hard to find an idle man in our city—Bellaire Bulletin.

A laborer of unclaimed packages were sold yesterday morning at the lower end of the Second Ward Market House by Auctioneer Haller for the B. & O. Express Company. Some valuable articles, such as gold watches, were sold for very low prices and some comparatively worthless things brought good figures. Appearances were deceptive in the extreme in this case.

ACQUITTALS.—The Pirates.—The Opera House held a grand crowd last night, a good many of those present having been so delighted the night before that they were constrained to return. The play went off well in all particulars. "Mama" Hunter's heart and endeavor of the audience, as on the former occasion, and the other fair made came in for their shares of favor. The scenery used for the troupe is superb, and their costumes the perfection of art in design, both as to style and color. The troupe will be remembered here, and if they return here will be greeted with enthusiasm by the old friends.

The Varieties.—At the Theatre Comique this evening, Messrs. Everett and Daily are the strongest card as the "Happy Hotentots." They are the best in this specialty we have ever seen. One of them kicks a hat held at the height of fourteen feet five inches. Dicks and Wade, the nerve comedians, are irresistible. In fact the whole show is a good one.

Ooty Gooft.—Gus Phillips returns to the city on Friday night, with his "Under the Tree" and the same company supporting him as when here before the war. The merits of the play and players are fresh in the minds of our readers, so we need not dwell upon either now.

ST. JACOBS Ointment relieves bodily pains.

THE WHEELING DAILY INTELLIGENCER, THURSDAY MORNING, APRIL 29, 1880.

HOME AGAIN FROM A FOREIGN SHORE.

The Welcome Tendered Mr. and Mrs. Thoburn at the Church at Bellaire was filled last evening to welcome Rev. James Thoburn and his sister, Miss Bella. On the platform was an evergreen arch bearing the words "Welcome, Missionaries," above was "India." There was an evergreen cross below the arch. Mrs. Wiley presided and read selections from the Bible admonishing to missionary work. The choir sang a welcome and a prayer was made. Mrs. Gressinger made an address of welcome to Miss Thoburn, and told the particular claims she has on the Woman's Missionary Society. Miss Thoburn arrived in July, 1879, at her home in St. Clairsville, the first meeting to organize a Woman's Missionary Society in this country, and she herself was the first woman to go to India as a missionary.

Miss Thoburn answered this address in a few words, and seemed much overcome by her feelings. She spoke of her work in India as she would recover strength, and she would go back to work again. She was glad to get back, and would do any work that is to do here, but much work was to be done there.

Rev. Toland then made the address to their guests. He thought all of them were pleased to welcome them, so he was their month-piece.

Rev. Thoburn then answered this address in a speech of a half hour. He said he was struck with the beauty of the welcome being sent him by the words "Welcome Home." He had told them in India that he was going to America and would come back home next fall. Here he found many strangers and many who knew him, but had never seen him before. He found a city between India and New York, and except Paris. Here in the Belmont hills was their childhood's home, and they were glad to see their friends again. He then gave a sketch of the work in India, showing how much he had accomplished. He had his sister and himself live eight hundred miles apart; he in Calcutta, she in Lucknow.

At the close of the meeting there was much handshaking by friends who had come to the meeting, especially of Miss Bella, who was known here before she left for India.

The returned missionaries will remain in Bellaire and vicinity for some little time. Mr. Thoburn is attending the meeting of the M. E. General Conference at Cincinnati, and there is considerable talk among the ministers and delegates who will attend that body of making him a Bishop. He lectures this evening at the Church of the Redeemer, and will observe his sister and experiences in Asia, and both he and his sister will probably have little opportunity to rest while in America.

Both of these missionaries are almost as well known in Wheeling as over the ocean. Miss Bella is a graduate of the Female College, and, unless we are mistaken, also taught in that institution for a time. Dr. Thoburn, a few years ago, at his last visit to this country, was the leading minister at the Moundville camp meeting, and is still fresh in the minds of our readers.

PERSONAL POINTS.—D. B. Updegraff, of Mt. Pleasant, Ohio, the noted Quaker revivalist, and a brother of J. T. Thoburn, accompanied by Mr. Updegraff.

THE WEST POINT OUTLOOK.

Inquiring into Whitaker's Standing for Scholarship.

West Point, April 28.—In the Whitaker inquiry to-day Professor Kendrick bore testimony to the studious habits and aptness of Whitaker.

The fireman in the boiler house testified that Simpson on the morning of the outrage said, this will create a great racket throughout the country and in Congress.

Recorder Sears placed himself on the witness stand and dictated a question to the stenographer which he himself proceeded to answer. He is the Assistant Professor of Philosophy. He testified that Whitaker was one of the most attentive and industrious students in his class. He was not deficient in want of application or study, but witness thought that he was deficient in mental ability to grasp some of the more abstruse portions of the subject.

His speech, on taking the chair, he denounced the elevation of Hayes to the Presidency as a fraud upon the Democratic party and country; and in alluding to the nominee at Cincinnati, said the party should not nominate a man who could not carry his own State.

The Convention chose the following delegates to the Cincinnati Convention: Alfred E. Burr, Hartford; V. E. Parsons, New Haven; G. W. Nichols, Norwich; W. H. Barnum, Salisbury. District delegates were then chosen. The Convention instructed the delegates to vote at Cincinnati for the retention of the two-thirds vote.

THE RESOLUTIONS.

The resolutions favor the adherence to the Constitution and respect for its limitations for civil service, which shall bring to all parts of the Government the former honesty and economy, denouncing the election of Hayes as a fraud and the nomination of the candidate at Cincinnati, devoted to the Constitution and honest government of conservatism, which will unite the party, and preserving the unit rule for the government of the action of the Connecticut delegation.

A FIRE BRAND THROWN INTO THE CONVENTION.

The Convention was harmonious to this point, when Blake, of Bridgeport, presented a resolution as an amendment, which was aimed at the candidacy of Samuel J. Tilden, and declared that the party should not nominate a man, whatever be his private grievances, or however eminent, who cannot command respect and approval by the entire Democratic party, and bring it success. He supported the amendment in a vigorous speech, naming Tilden, and declaring that he could not unite the party, and his nomination would jeopardize its success.

During his speech confusion in the Convention, and finally E. S. Cleveland, of Hartford, who had previously been invited to the platform, got the floor and denounced the resolution as a fire brand, and read long extracts from the resolutions of the Convention, called Vice President Hollister to the chair, and at the close of Cleveland's speech got the floor and opposed the adoption of any resolutions or any declaration of sentiment.

During his speech he said that he did not know how many of the delegates chosen were for Tilden, when a vote responded, "ten of the twelve."

Waller questioned harmony and leaving the whole question to the delegates, who he said, should vote for Tilden would never attend another Convention from Connecticut. [A voice—"A fire brand!"]

He finally moved the indefinite postponement of all resolutions and the adoption of one pledging the support of the Cincinnati platform, put the question, Tilden, and the motion was carried unanimously by acclamation.

It was quite a brilliant performance, and got the Convention out of the trouble of the solution. The delegates to the regular Convention lost the delegates to vote according to their individual choice. In the First district there was a contest over the delegates at large, which was carried into the Convention, but resulted in the choice of Fred E. Burr over Governor Richard D. Hubbard. Burr is the editor of the Times of this city, and Parsons, another delegate at large editor of the Register of New Haven. The latter supports ex-Gov. English of this State for the Presidency.

The majority of the delegates chosen, it is understood, will go with Barnum in support of Tilden or his candidate. It is probable that Waller will go to the Convention as a substitute, and he is an anti-Tilden man. Adjourned.

SOUTH CAROLINA REPUBLICANS.

A Grand Wave Sweeps the Convention.—The Delegation to the General Convention from South Carolina.

COLUMBIA, S. C., April 28.—The Republican State Convention met in the hall of the House of Representatives at noon to-day. A temporary organization was effected with closed doors, no reporters being admitted. E. W. M. Mackey (white), of Charleston, was elected temporary Chairman, and Harry Noah (white), of Richmond, temporary Secretary.

The Convention has taken a recess till half-past 2 o'clock. It is impossible to ascertain whether any significance attaches to the election of the temporary organization, but certain death seems to be indicated, not indicating how the delegation to Chicago will stand.

CINCINNATI, April 28.—River 40 feet 6 inches. Arrived: Hudson, Pittsburgh; Pittsburgh, Memphis; Golden, Crow, New Orleans; Departed: Hudson, Pittsburgh; Fashion, Henderson; Granite State, St. Louis.

NEW ORLEANS, April 28.—Weather cloudy and warm. Thermometer 33°. Arrived: Guiding Star, Cincinnati. Departed: Guiding Star, Cincinnati. The steamer Thomas Sherlock is receiving to leave to-morrow for Cincinnati.

CAIRO, April 28.—River 35 feet and falling. Weather cloudy. Thermometer 60°. Arrived: Kehler, New Orleans; C. W. Anderson, Nashville; City of Helena, St. Louis; Greenview, Vicksburg. Departed: Hotspur, St. Kehler, St. Louis; Greenview, St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, April 28.—River risen two inches, with 16 feet 8 inches by gauge. Weather cool; rain to-night. Arrived: Gilmore and barges, New Orleans; Polar Star, Memphis; Golden, Crow, New Orleans; Departed: Hudson, Pittsburgh; Fashion, Henderson; Granite State, St. Louis.

LOUISVILLE, April 28.—River 16 feet in the canal and 14 feet in the chute on falls. Business good. Weather cloudy and chilly. Golden City, New Orleans to Cincinnati; Oakland and low for Pittsburgh; Thomas Millar and Springer are out at night; a noon-day a fleet of fifteen coal boats and barges tied at the foot of Sand Island were swept away by the current. The New Albany ferry boat, Wash Gray, Goldsmith Maid and Lexington, and the Indiana steamship, opposite West Louisville all safe. They belong to John A. Wood & Son. About 2 p. m. a loaded and empty coal barge went adrift from Jeffersonville. They passed through the pier safely. The loaded barge was landed at New Albany by the ferry, and the empty one at Silver creek by some paties in a skiff.
